I. PURPOSE

To establish procedures regarding the health, safety, and dignity of incarcerated persons, including transgender, intersex, and non-binary incarcerated persons, in the custody of the NJDOC, including ensuring the rebuttable presumption to live in line with their gender identity.

II. DEFINITIONS

The following terms, when used in this procedure, shall have the following meanings, unless the context clearly indicates otherwise:

Cisgender means a person whose gender assigned at birth (sometimes referred to as sex assigned at birth) matches their gender identity. For instance, if a person was assigned female at birth, and self-identifies as a woman or girl, that person is cisgender.

Electronic Medical Record (EMR) means the primary healthcare record of an incarcerated person in an electronic format that contains recorded information concerning the medical, dental and mental health history and related health activities of the incarcerated person. This is the primary healthcare record of all incarcerated persons who are processed in the NJDOC system.

Gender means a person’s sex-related or gender-related characteristics, including one’s gender identity.

Gender Expression means a person’s gender-related appearance and behavior, whether or not stereotypically associated with the person’s assigned gender at birth. It is the manner in which a person represents or expresses their gender to others, such as through their behavior, clothing, hairstyles, activities, voice or mannerisms.

Gender Identity means a person’s internal, deeply held knowledge of their own gender, regardless of the gender they were assigned at birth. All people have a gender identity, not just transgender people.

Gender Non-Conforming means a person whose gender expression does not conform to traditional gender expectations.

Incarcerated person Personal Property means items owned by an incarcerated person that have been approved for incarcerated person retention while incarcerated in a correctional facility. Incarcerated person personal property may also be property held by a correctional facility on behalf of an incarcerated person and handled in accordance with N.J.A.C. 10A:1-11.

Institutional PREA Compliance Manager (IPCM) means the NJDOC staff member designated by the institutional Administrator to coordinate and supervise PREA compliance within the facility. This position will be at the level of an Assistant Superintendent or higher.

Intersex means a person whose sex characteristics may not fit medical definitions of male and female. These characteristics may include, but are not necessarily limited to, internal reproductive organs, external genitalia, and sex chromosomes.

iTAG or IMS means the NJDOC’s computerized database used to track events of an incarcerated person’s incarceration. iTAG contains incarcerated person sentencing information, alerts, and chronological history.

New Jersey Department of Corrections (NJDOC) means that agency in the Executive Branch of the New Jersey State Government whose functions are to protect the public and provide for the custody, care, discipline, training and treatment of persons committed to State correctional facilities. In this document, this is also referred to as the “Department” or the “NJDOC.”

Non-Binary means a gender that is not exclusively male or female. The term also means those with more than one gender or with no gender at all. It is also inclusive of terms such as gender fluid, agender, bigender, or gender expansive.

PREA means the Federal Prison Rape Elimination Act of 2003. This act was established to provide for the analysis of the incidence and effects of prison rape in Federal, State, and local institutions and provide information, resources, and recommendations and funding to protect individuals from prison rape, sexual abuse and sexual harassment. The major provisions of PREA include adherence to a zero-tolerance standard for the incidence of incarcerated person sexual assault and rape, the development of standards for the detection, prevention, reduction and punishment of prison rape and the collection and dissemination of information on the incidence of prison rape.

PREA Accommodation Committee (PAC) means the sub-committee of the Sexual Assault Advisory Council responsible for making individualized determinations about transgender, intersex, or non-binary incarcerated persons' privacy, housing, and programming assignments. The PAC shall consist of an Executive representative from: Women's Services, Health Services and Operations. These representatives shall be voting members. An LGBTQIA+ representative, who may be internal to the NJDOC or external, shall be invited to participate in a PAC housing hearing in an advisory capacity.

PREA Agency Coordinator means the NJDOC staff member designated by the NJDOC Commissioner to coordinate and guide agency and individual facility implementation of a zero-tolerance approach to preventing, detecting and responding to sexual abuse and sexual harassment.

PREA Standards means written rules that require all correctional facilities to comply with minimum acceptable benchmarks in order to reduce and eliminate the incidence of prison rape. These directions are directed toward the states by the federal government, as published in 28 CFR Part 115.

Sexual Assault Advisory Council means the NJDOC committee that establishes guidelines and standards and works to support those guidelines and standards for the prevention, detection, protection, and elimination of prison rape within the NJDOC (referred to as "Council" in this policy).

Sexual Orientation means a person's romantic or sexual attraction to people of another and/or the same gender. Common terms used to describe sexual orientation include, but are not limited to, straight, lesbian, gay, bisexual, and asexual. Sexual orientation and gender identity are different: gender identity refers to one's internal knowledge of their gender, while sexual orientation refers to whom one is attracted to.

Transgender means people whose gender identity and/or expression is different from cultural expectations based on the gender they were assigned at birth. Being transgender does not imply any specific sexual orientation. Therefore, transgender people may identify as straight, gay, lesbian, bisexual, etc. This term is an adjective. Using this term as a verb (i.e., transgendered) or noun (i.e., transgenders) is offensive and should be avoided.

Vulnerable Housing describes the unit(s) within facilities designed for general population incarcerated persons who may require a setting that affords an environment that may reduce the potential incidence of victimization due to the incarcerated persons specific characteristics, such as but not limited to, size, appearance, occupation, notoriety of offense. These units shall afford the incarcerated person all of the privileges, programming and treatment available to the general population.

III. POLICY

It is the policy of the NJDOC to address the needs of transgender, intersex, and non-binary incarcerated persons in a manner consistent with federal Prison Rape Elimination Act (PREA) standards, the New Jersey Law Against Discrimination (NJLAD), and in accordance with departmental regulations, policies and procedures.

Once the NJDOC learns and confirms an incarcerated person's gender identity, using the procedures laid out in this document, it shall determine the incarcerated person's facility and housing unit assignment, with a rebuttable presumption that the incarcerated person will be housed in line with their gender identity. The PREA Accommodation Committee (PAC) may deviate from the presumptive placement following a thorough individualized review as set forth in this policy.

IV. PROCEDURES

A. Identifying Incarcerated persons' Gender Identity

1. Incarcerated persons shall have the ability to provide information to NJDOC about their gender identity at any time during their incarceration at NJDOC. This includes, but is not limited to, initial reception, facility intake, intra-institutional transfer, via inquiry to the Institutional PREA Compliance Manager (IPCM), during medical appointments, through professional services counseling, during routine classification reviews, or at any time during their incarceration. When such gender identity information is provided, the Department shall provide to the incarcerated person the Gender Identity Information Form and the Gender Identity Housing Request Form, which must be completed by the incarcerated person for record-keeping purposes.
2. While court documents are the documents of record for identification and reception purposes at NJDOC, these may be supplemented by other sources or records that indicate an incarcerated person's gender identity, intersex, and/or non-binary status, of which NJDOC may receive notice.
3. Upon initial reception/intake at NJDOC, as part of the PREA Risk Assessment, and through communication with NJDOC including but not limited to communication with Medical, Social Services, or Administration, incarcerated persons shall have the opportunity to inform the NJDOC that they are transgender, intersex, or non-binary. At any time during their incarceration, incarcerated persons may identify as transgender, intersex, or non-binary or otherwise provide information about their gender identity.
4. Incarcerated persons identified as transgender, intersex, or non-binary, including those who self-identify, will be referred to the IPCM.
5. Within three business days of notification, the facility IPCM shall confidentially meet with the incarcerated person. During this meeting, the incarcerated person will be afforded the opportunity to express their own views with respect to safety and housing and will be notified of the rights and accommodations available to them under PREA and under this Policy, including referral to the relevant section of incarcerated person handbook or other written summary. The incarcerated person will complete the PAC Gender Identity Information form.

6. The IPCM will contact the Central Office PREA Compliance Unit to schedule a PAC housing/program review in accordance with Part IV.B. below.
7. In addition to information provided by the IPCM, the incarcerated person handbook for each facility will contain a statement providing incarcerated persons with information on how to exercise their rights under this policy, including but not limited to how an incarcerated person may request a meeting with the IPCM, and how to request housing in line with the incarcerated person's gender identity.
8. Transgender, intersex, or non-binary incarcerated persons will be housed in single cell status until final housing and programming assignments are made in accordance with Part IV.B below. However, single cell status as used in this paragraph shall not mean isolation or restrictive housing. This paragraph shall not prevent an incarcerated person from requesting and being provided voluntary protective custody, or placement in the vulnerable housing unit, until the final housing and programmatic assignments are made if the incarcerated person feels unsafe in their current placement.

B. Housing and Classification Reviews

1. The NJDOC considers whether the particular placement would present management or security problems in all housing and programmatic assignments. This consideration will be applied equally to all incarcerated persons, regardless of their sex or gender identity, and may justify a deviation from an incarcerated person's presumptive placement in line with gender identity for cisgender, transgender, intersex, and non-binary incarcerated persons alike. Although this consideration therefore applies to Part IV.B of this document, under no circumstances will a transgender, intersex, or non-binary incarcerated person's placement in line with their gender identity be considered a management or security problem solely due to their gender identity.
2. Once the NJDOC learns and confirms the gender identity of an incarcerated person using the procedures set forth in this document, it shall determine the incarcerated person's facility and housing unit assignment, with a rebuttable presumption that the incarcerated person will be housed in line with their gender identity. The PAC may deviate from the presumptive placement only after an individualized, case-by-case determination that the placement would jeopardize the incarcerated person's health and safety, and/or significantly impact the safety of others in the potential receiving facility. Any such determination shall be set forth in writing and shall state the reasons for the deviation.

- a. Pursuant to PREA Standard 115.42(g), the Department shall not place lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender or intersex incarcerated persons in dedicated facilities, units or wings solely on the basis of such identification or status unless such placement is in a dedicated facility, unit or wing established in connection with a consent decree, legal settlement or legal judgment for the purposes of protecting such incarcerated persons.
 - b. In deciding whether to deviate from the presumptive placement, via a PAC hearing, the PAC shall provide a specific individualized written review, and give consideration to the potential impact each of the following has on the safety of the individual person or others:
 - i. Incarcerated person's own views regarding housing and safety;
 - ii. Vulnerability to sexual victimization;
 - iii. Current gender expression;
 - iv. Criminal or institutional disciplinary history, which should be taken into consideration to evaluate likelihood of perpetrating sexual abuse, or other violence, either against the incarcerated person seeking to be housed in line with their gender identity, or by the individual against the potential receiving facility population wherein the individual would be housed in line with their gender identity;
 - v. Behavioral, medical and mental health needs and recommendations;
 - vi. Reproductive considerations;
 - vii. Any other relevant information.
 - c. In some cases, NJDOC may learn and confirm that an incarcerated person's gender identity is neither male nor female. In such cases, the incarcerated person shall be housed in the most appropriate placement, taking into consideration the requirements and factors set forth in Section IV(B)(2)(a-c).
3. A transgender, intersex, or non-binary incarcerated person's housing assignment will be reviewed by the PAC as follows:
 - a. At all times, the PAC will ensure that the incarcerated person's facility assignment complies with Parts IV.B.1-2 of this document. If the PAC has a substantiated, credible, and non-discriminatory basis for believing that an incarcerated person is not sincere in their assertion of their gender identity and is asserting it for an improper purpose, the PAC may ask further questions to better understand the incarcerated person's identity and offer the incarcerated person a fair opportunity to present additional information. The PAC must make a written record of the basis for its belief, which shall be included in the incarcerated person's classification file and available to the incarcerated person should they challenge the PAC's decision pursuant to Part IV.B.3(e) or other procedures.

- b. Because multiple classifications and placements exist for male incarcerated persons within male facilities and female incarcerated persons within female facilities, in deciding the specific placement for a particular incarcerated person within a facility in line with their gender identity, the PAC will consider:
- i. All aspects of an incarcerated person's social and medical transition when formulating recommendations to address safety and privacy concerns, including factors such as behavioral history, institutional adjustment, overall demeanor, and likely interactions with other incarcerated persons; and the incarcerated person's own views with respect to safety.
 - ii. Whether a placement would threaten the orderly operation, management and security of the correctional facility and/or pose a risk to other incarcerated persons in the facility (e.g., considering incarcerated persons with histories of trauma, privacy concerns, etc.). This consideration will be applied equally to all incarcerated persons, regardless of their gender identity.
 - iii. The following factors on a case-by-case basis:
 1. The Gender Identity Information Form, if completed;
 2. custody level and sentencing information;
 3. criminal history;
 4. institutional disciplinary history;
 5. current gender expression;
 6. the incarcerated person's own views regarding safety;
 7. medical and mental health needs/information/status;
 8. compliance with medically recommended treatments;
 9. vulnerability to sexual victimization;
 10. likelihood of perpetrating sexual abuse;
 11. facility-specific factors including physical layouts; and
 12. any other relevant information.

These factors are also considered on a case-by-case basis in deciding the specific placement for a cisgender incarcerated person.
 - iv. The considerations outlined in Part IV.B.3(b)(i) through (iii) apply to housing placements within a specific facility.
- c. The incarcerated person shall be afforded the opportunity to attend the PAC meeting unless contraindications exist. The incarcerated person shall be given 72 hours' notice of the scheduled hearing date. The incarcerated person's presence is not required. If the incarcerated person refuses to meet with the IPCM or PAC, the PAC shall convene, as required, and complete the review based upon available information. If contraindications exist and prevent attendance, the PAC must make a written record of the contraindications and the reasons they prevent attendance, which shall be included in the incarcerated person's classification file and available to the incarcerated person should they challenge the PAC's decision pursuant to Part IV.B.4(e) or other procedures.

- d. The PAC will make a decision regarding housing within 14 business days of the date of the hearing. The incarcerated person will be notified in writing of the PAC's decision no later than day 14 which shall include a written statement of reasons, via the classification meeting process as denoted in NJAC 10A:9. The decision will be recorded in the incarcerated person's classification meeting notes.
 - e. If the incarcerated person disagrees with the decision of the PAC, they may submit an appeal to the Commissioner, or the Commissioner's designee, within 14 business days from the date of receipt of the PAC decision. As part of the review and determination process on appeal, the Commissioner shall empanel an appeals committee, comprised of executive staff members – including Chief of Staff, Deputy Commissioner or Assistant Commissioner of Operations, and Assistant Commissioner of the Division of Diversity and Legal Affairs, or designees. The appeals committee will render a final decision, which shall include a written statement of reasons, and notify the incarcerated person within 14 business days. Upon request by the incarcerated person, the full record of the decision-making of the PAC and/or PAC appeals committee shall be made available to the incarcerated person within 7 business days. If any items cannot be disclosed to the incarcerated person because of confidentiality, the incarcerated person shall be informed why such items are confidential.
 - f. The procedures outlined herein shall apply regardless of when NJDOC learns an incarcerated person is transgender, intersex, or non-binary, whether at intake or after a significant period of NJDOC custody. Incarcerated persons may request, via the IPCM or Administration staff, a review by the PAC if they believe their current placement does not align with their gender identity and considerations enumerated herein.
4. The housing assignment/transfer of incarcerated persons approved to be housed in a different facility due to their gender identity will be handled in accordance with all applicable operational policies and procedures and the provisions set forth in N.J.A.C. 10A.
 5. In keeping with PREA standard 115.42, the particular placement of a transgender, intersex, or non-binary incarcerated person shall be reassessed by the IPCM and supplemental staff as deemed appropriate by the facility Administrator, or the Administrator's designee, at least twice each year.

6. An Administrator, or Administrator's designee, who receives an incarcerated person at a facility consistent with the incarcerated person's gender identity may request an immediate review when significant adjustment issues emerge, or upon the request to return to the previous facility. The Administrator shall make this request through the PAC. The Administrator, or administrator's designee, shall provide a written description of the significant adjustment issues and reasons for the request, which shall be included in the incarcerated person's classification file and available to the incarcerated person should they challenge the PAC's decision pursuant to Part IV.B.3(e) or other procedure.
7. In accordance with PREA standards, all transgender, intersex, and non-binary incarcerated persons, will receive an in-person review every six months to assess the incarcerated person's institutional adjustment and safety. The PREA Compliance Manager will meet with the incarcerated person prior to this review and complete the Gender Identity Information Reassessment form. This form will be maintained by the IPCM. A record of these reviews will be recorded and maintained in the incarcerated person's iTAG Progress Notes.
8. In keeping with PREA standard 115.42, NJDOC shall not place transgender, intersex, or non-binary incarcerated persons in dedicated facilities, units, or wings solely on the basis of such identification or status.

C. Respect and Confidentiality Responsibilities

1. Staff shall not harass or discriminate against any incarcerated person based on their actual or perceived gender identity. Unprofessional and derogatory references towards any incarcerated person is not acceptable under any circumstances.
2. Like all other NJDOC incarcerated persons, transgender, intersex, and gender non-binary incarcerated persons shall be referred to in a gender-neutral form of address (e.g., by the legal last name or "Incarcerated person" last name). However, if staff are using gender-specific pronouns, and/or honorifics (Mr., Ms., Mx. or any other used by the incarcerated person) to refer to an incarcerated person, they must use the pronouns and honorifics associated with that incarcerated person's gender identity. Intentional and repeated misuse of gender pronouns or titles is prohibited. The name entered on the incarcerated person's Judgment of Conviction/Commitment Order and court documents will remain the official committed name for all departmental records (incident reports, progress reviews, sentence calculations, etc.). However, any additional names or aliases can be entered into iTAG as appropriate.
3. With respect to requests by incarcerated persons for legal name changes or to change gender markers on their official legal forms of identification, NJDOC has no authority over such procedures and such requests shall be processed in accordance with the governing agency's procedures and in accordance with applicable state law.

4. Staff shall only share information regarding transgender, intersex or non-binary status for purposes of risk assessment, classification, or housing placement, medical and mental health care, programming placement, and any other reason that could affect the safety and security of the incarcerated person and/or of the correctional facility.
5. Any references to an incarcerated person's transgender, intersex, or non-binary status shall be redacted from non-medical reports prior to issuance, to include any OPRA requests.

D. Medical Treatment

1. Medical/mental health treatment of transgender, intersex, and non-binary incarcerated persons, including but not limited to medically appropriate gender-affirming care, will be provided as medically necessary in accordance with procedures determined by the Department's health care provider.
2. Staff shall not handle an incarcerated person's request for medical attention with any less urgency or respect because of that incarcerated person's actual or perceived gender identity or gender expression.

E. Privacy and Searches

1. Pursuant to PREA Standard 115.15, transgender, intersex, and non-binary incarcerated persons shall be given the opportunity to shower separately from other incarcerated persons.
2. Pursuant to PREA Standards, Staff shall conduct searches of incarcerated persons, including transgender, intersex, or non-binary incarcerated persons, in a professional and respectful manner, and in the least intrusive manner possible, consistent with security needs. Search procedures for all incarcerated persons are delineated in Internal Management Procedure CUS.001.SEA.01 Searches of Incarcerated persons and Correctional Facilities.
3. In line with N.J.A.C. 10A:3-5.7, strip searches shall be conducted by staff of the same gender as the incarcerated person, except under emergent conditions as ordered by the Administrator, Associate Administrator, Assistant Superintendent or the highest ranking custody supervisor on duty. In line with PREA Standard 115.15, pat-downs of female incarcerated persons, including cisgender and transgender women, shall be conducted by staff of the same gender identity as the incarcerated person, except under emergent conditions as ordered by the Administrator, Associate Administrator, Assistant Superintendent or the highest ranking custody supervisor on duty.

4. Staff shall not search or physically examine a transgender, intersex, or non-binary incarcerated person for the sole purpose of determining the incarcerated person's genital status.

F. Personal Property

1. Incarcerated persons identified as transgender, intersex, or non-binary shall be issued, allowed to purchase, and allowed to retain undergarments, clothing, and other personal property in line with their gender identity, subject to the requirements of Part IV.E.2, regardless of which facility they are in and consistent with their custody status.
2. Incarcerated persons will be informed of their ability to obtain gender-specific personal property as outlined in the Gender Identity Information form, regardless of housing assignment. For transgender, intersex, or non-binary incarcerated persons housed in line with their gender assigned at birth, but nevertheless in compliance with Parts IV.B. of this Policy:
 - a. Any such gender-specific personal property requests will be processed by the IPCM and reviewed by the facility Administrator, or the Administrator's designee, Medical and/or Mental Health professional when appropriate, and Operations Director for safety and security purposes prior to approval.
 - b. The facility Administrator, or the Administrator's designee, will coordinate having the appropriate number of approved items sent to the facility for purchase/distribution to the incarcerated person. Retention amounts of these items shall be in accordance with Policy Statement IMM.010.001 Basic Incarcerated Person Clothing Issues, Bedding and Linen and its associated Internal Management Procedures.

G. Training

1. To promote dignity, respect and understanding, staff shall receive initial and annual refresher training on the treatment of transgender persons.
2. The contracted medical, mental health and behavioral providers shall provide orientation and annual refresher training for their employees concerning the treatment of incarcerated transgender persons.
